

I'm strongly opposed to the weakening or elimination of Indiana's telephone privacy law. I've enjoyed the benefit of my privacy and not getting bombard with endless phone calls all evening and weekend long. Meals and family time were constantly being interrupted with rude and annoying telephone solicitors. I should have the right to prevent these calls. If I;m interested in a product or service I have the information available to select and inquire companies.